

A close-up photograph of a tree trunk with a person's face superimposed on it. The person's face is in profile, looking upwards, and is perfectly aligned with the texture and shape of the tree bark. The background shows other tree branches and a clear sky.

The great love of God flows through me, as me and manifests perfection, harmony and joy in every cell and fiber of my being. With this knowledge I make this moment my best friend. With this awareness, I will never deny anyone else his right of choice, infringe on his privacy or freedom of thought. My duty is only to nurture and protect my compassion which is my instrument in life.

And So It Is.

-Dr. Robbie G. Smith
